DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 08/05/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Examiner maintains the 103 rejection in the first Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Crawford in view of Awada 943'. See the first Office action.

The Applicant has argued that Crawford's method of play is clearly a game of skill, wherein players must analyze which cards to hold and which cards to discard and replace. While the Applicant's invention removes all of the skill aspects of the method of play since Applicant's method of play is stud poker without any holding or discarding or replacement of cards. The Applicant also states that there is no disclosure or suggestion in Crawford that his skill game could be modified by making it a stud poker game; in fact to modify Crawford to remove the discard and draw steps of his game would be to defeat the basis for his method of play which is a skill poker game.

4. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, stud poker is a well known game in casinos. It is also well known to one of ordinary skill in the art that the time it takes to play a hand of stud poker is shorter than the time it takes to play a hand of draw poker. Thus, in view of such teaching, and in view of Awada 943' teaching in the first Office action, it would have been obvious to make Crawford's draw poker game a stud poker game. This modification would have eliminated the draw step in Crawford's game shortening playing time and increasing profits and revenue.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

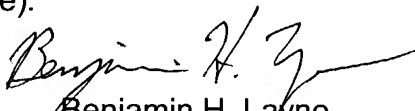

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
